

BAD
CORONA VIRUS

SOAP ATTACK

DEAD
CORONA VIRUS

WASH YOUR HANDS!

childsplay

Soap works well against COVID-19, because it targets the weakest link in the virus; namely, the lipid bilayer that forms part of the viral envelope. Soaps dissolve the lipid bilayer in water, so that the virus degrades and loses its ability to infect. Alcohol has a similar impact on the viral envelope, but is less effective than soap.

cre·ax

[Intelligence for innovation]